Travelers' Century Club

Membership in the Travelers' Century Club is limited to those who have visited one hundred or more countries and territories of the world. It was first organized in Los Angeles, in 1954, by a group of the worlds most widely traveled people. The idea has attracted the interest of world travelers everywhere and we now have members throughout the United States, as well as in many foreign countries.

The motto of the Club is — "World Travel...the Passport to Peace through Understanding." In this connection we quote from a talk made at the World Travel Congress in 1958 by Mr. E.C. Daniels, Assistant Managing editor of the New York Times;

"If there is left in the world any hope whatsoever that man can live in peace, despite the terrible weapons they have created to destroy each other, that hope lies in a better understanding among peoples. Understanding isn't possible without extensive personal contacts. Personal contact can only be made by traveling." As the late Pope Pius XII said, "Away with the barriers, break down the barbed wire fences, let people be free to know the life of other people, let that segregation of some countries from the rest of the world—so dangerous to peace—be abolished."
